Hello!

I want to give everyone the heads up that that Hillsboro Medical Center (HMC) will have to turn off their water main tonight at 10p until about 4a tomorrow morning due to a pipe breakage.

Due to this, they will be on an extended period of divert (and possibly internal disaster) during that time as no water will affect their operations significantly. The HMC OCS tile will be updated during this time to reflect their status.

If you have any questions, please feel free to let me know.

Thanks!
