

During the CATT Feasibility Study, the Program Development Work Group and Leadership Team identified services to include in a new comprehensive facility that would triage and treat substance use disorders in Washington County. A high priority was placed on aligning and complimenting other community services and supports that currently exist. The services were organized into buckets that we called core, core plus, co-located and integrated, and community/partner provided services. These service buckets were prioritized so that the project is scalable and responsive to future needs. The priority list will also help if Washington County cannot afford to provide everything all at once.
